Johannesburg / 22 January 2025

As one of South Africa's brightest minds, do you want to contribute to the country's financial sector on a larger scale? Boost your career and qualify as a Registered Auditor with the IRBA's Audit Development Programme (ADP)! The ADP is the ultimate key to success in auditing.

Being part of the ADP gives managers the opportunity to develop competencies designed to make them competent Registered Auditors (RAs). The programme is competency-driven and encourages managers to audit with the goal of achieving the required competencies at an advanced level. This focus will ultimately contribute to the quality of work performed on audit engagements. Additionally, audit managers are challenged to develop non-technical competencies essential for becoming a successful and competent Registered Auditor.

This cutting-edge, automated programme is supported by a highly qualified team committed to ensuring candidates have a positive experience while enrolled in the ADP. It offers fully developed digital content, including interactive e-learning and marketing videos, all available on the IRBA learning page.

The team follows a client-centric approach and is available to firms interested in the ADP, offering workshops, one-on-one sessions, and firm-based workshops as requested.

There's no need to delay registering for the ADP, as there are no costs involved. You can register for FREE and take advantage of the programme's benefits. If your career goal is to sign off on an organisation's financials, become a partner in an audit firm, or use the RA designation on your CV to pursue a director role in commerce, then the ADP is for you.
